DETAILED ACTION

Acknowledgement

1. Claims 57, 59-62, 66, 68-71, 73-77 have been amended. Claims 64-65 have been cancelled.

Response to Arguments

2. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 57-63 and 65-77 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 57-67, 69-72, and 74-75 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Lear (US 5568499).

With respect to claims 57, Lear discloses the claimed invention. Particularly in Fig. 2, Lear discloses a laser structure, comprising: an active region 28; a first electrical contact 20 disposed on a first surface of said laser structure; a second electrical contact 22, said active region being disposed between said first and second electrical contacts; a first oxidizable layer, said first oxidizable layer being subject to physical change when exposed to an oxidizing agent; means for selectively exposing a portion of said first oxidizable layer to said oxidizing agent; a first unchanged region (middle part of layer 34) of said first oxidizable layer surrounded by a first changed region of said first oxidizable layer, said first unchanged region of said first oxidizable layer being aligned with a preselected region (middle part) of said active region 28, said first changed region being electrically insulative, said first unchanged region being electrically conductive; wherein said means for selectively exposing includes at least one etched depression extending from said first surface of said laser structure into the body of said laser structure and through said first oxidizable layer to expose a portion of said oxidizable layer to said oxidizing agent during manufacture of said laser structure (col. 8, lines 46-67 to col. 9, lines 9 and col. 10, lines 15-62).

With respect to claim 58, Lear discloses the laser structure is a VCSEL.

With respect to claims 59 and 72, since Lear discloses top mirror 16 having multiple layers of oxidizable layer 34, there is a second oxidizable layer and it is also oxidized when exposed to water vapor and become electrically insulative.

With respect to claims 60, 61, 70 and 75, Lear discloses said laser structure comprises a substrate portion 12, a lasing portion (active layer 28) disposed on said substrate portion, a contact support portion 24 disposed on said substrate portion, and a bridging portion 30 disposed on said substrate portion, said bridging portion connected between said lasing portion and said contact support portion, said first oxidizable layer being exposed at a surface of said lasing portion.

Art Unit: 2828

With respect to claims 62 and 63, Lear teaches the physical change is oxidization and said oxidizing agent is water vapor (col. 8, lines 53-60).

With respect to claim 67, Lear teaches a first and second mirror structures 14 and 16 comprising a plurality of layers (plurality of mirror pairs 32 and 34), said active layer 28 is disposed between said first and second mirror structures 14 and 16.

With respect to claims 69, 71, 74 Lear discloses the claimed invention as shown in the rejection of claims 57 and 58. In Fig. 2, Lear further teaches the top mirror 16 having multiple pairs of low and high aluminum content which are oxidizable. At least two pairs define the first and second oxidizable layers and the middle parts of these layers define first and second nonoxidizable region which are aligned with a preselected region of said active region.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 68, 73, and 76-77 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Lear (US 5568499). Lear discloses the claimed invention except for explicitly teaching the first and second means for exposing further include four etched depression. It would have been obvious to the one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide plurality of etched depressions, such as four etched depressions, in order to completely oxidize the outer oxidizable layers to create a current restriction region.
